COOL AND WARM SEASON CROPS by Jannine Cabossel www.giantveggiegardener.com

Cool weather crops are leafy ones like spinach, lettuce, arugula, and greens like mustard, bok choy, collards, and chard, root vegetables like beets and carrots, bulbs such as onions and shallots, and legumes such as peas.

Warm weather crops are mostly fruiting ones that require pollination by bees or other insects such as squash, cucumbers, tomatoes, melons and berries.

Winter Crops that are suited to overwintering in a cold frame are arugula, corn mache, miner's lettuce, spinach, and kale, among others.
